

Codega Prize 2017: LED lighting excellences award

POSTED ON 30 JUNE 2017 BY LAURA BARONCHELLI

Light will be the main character of next 13th of October on the occasion of the Codega Prize 2017. In the beautiful setting of Villa Foscari in Padua/Venice, lighting professionals will meet to celebrate lighting design and LED lighting excellences.

The Codega Prize is the international recognition assigned to the best solutions/realizations for their innovative aspects. But also for the use of smart lighting and their energy saving & efficiency results. An award that recognizes creativity but also "Human Centric" approaches for people's wellbeing.

The international prize

The Prize aims at spreading the culture of light and the related aspects of energy saving, creativity and quality linked to LED Lighting.

The award is promoted and organized by international associations such as Assodel (Italian Federation of Electronics Clusters) and IDEA (International Distribution of Electronics Association). Under the patronage of APIL (Italian Association of Lighting Professionals), AILD (Italian Association of Lighting Designers), A-PDI (Asociacion Diseñadores de Iluminacion).

(*) Some of the candidates of the latest editions include: AF Lighting, Aureolighting, James Poore LD, Brian Orter LD, Licht 01, Pfarrè Lighting, Michael Grubb, Wadalowski, Simone Micheli, Stefano Dall'Osso, DCI, Skira, Arup...

Categories

The Codega Prize includes two categories.

1 – Lighting Design – a recognition to the best independent lighting designers and professionals' realizations or installations.

2 – Lighting Solution – a recognition to the best LED solutions/systems and luminaires.

Both recognitions underline the innovative dimension of lighting design where there must be creativity but also technological research, development of customized solutions and positive results in terms of energy efficiency and human well-being.
